

MultiFinder: Workaround for Incompatible Desk Accessories

Why do some desk accessories work with MultiFinder and others do not?

This article has been archived and is no longer updated by Apple.

Some desk accessories do not work properly under the MultiFinder DA Handler (version 1.0). If you open the DA while holding down the Option key, the DA loads into the present application's heap. This will allow some (but not all) MultiFinder-incompatible DAs to work correctly.

If you have a DA that is used in one application only, you may install it into that application using the Font/DA mover. This allows you to open the DA in the application's heap without having to hold down the Option key.
